The Fund returned +0.39% in August vs -4.04% for the TSX Total Return Index.

August was a volatile month with meaningful losses in major markets across the globe. The volatility index, VIX spiked 134% to trade at levels not seen in close to 4 years.

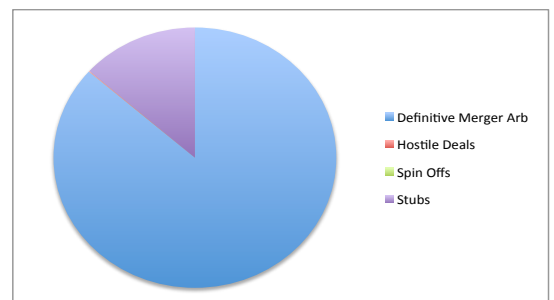

We take pride in our low volatility, and are particularly pleased with the divergent performance of the fund relative to the Canadian equities market over the past year. In fact since last August the fund has outperformed the TSX Total Return by more than 15%.

It is worth noting our leverage was reduced at month end, as our largest weighting, Element Financial (EFN) came off the books as it closed it's acquisition of GE Capital's US-based Fleet Operations.

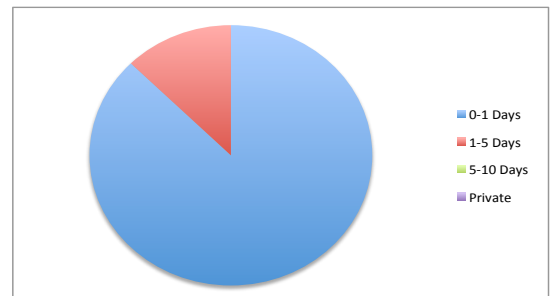

Sincerely,

Dave Heden

 S&P/TSX Comp Total Return Index - The TSX Total Return Index is a widely-known equity index of Canadian large-cap companies. Investing in US and Canadian equities long and short is the primary strategy for HGC as part of the merger arbitrage strategy but HGC does not invest in all or necessarily any of the securities that compose the market indexes. Reference to the indexes does not imply that HGC will achieve returns similar to the indexes."
