The Fund returned +0.20% in September vs. -3.67% for the TSX Total Return Index.

A transaction of note that closed over month-end was OceanaGold Corp's all-share purchase of Romarco Minerals Inc. Management of both companies believe this merger will result in the lowest-cost gold producer in the world. When commodities face as tough a market as we have seen this past year, M&A activity typically increases as the larger companies prey on the weak and smaller players look to join forces to compete. We view this transaction as yet another example of consolidation in the commodities space, which we believe will continue for the foreseeable future.

The portfolio is once again fully vested as we have been adding to the number of positions within our mandate. In fact, the fund is now invested in a total of 38 spreads, the most we have had on this past year. Spreads on these deals are relatively generous, giving us an optimistic outlook into year-end.

Sincerely,

Dave Heden
